

ALEXANDRIA.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 16.

THERE is no doubt of the fact that General Mahone has induced the administration and the national republican committee to believe that without him the republican party in Virginia would amount to nothing. Consequently both are assisting him to the full extent of their power in his present contest. Such aid, in addition to his own energetic efforts and well known "methods" and "malign influence," cannot fail to have great effect on the day of election. There is as little doubt that the General's opponents constitute a large majority of the voters of the State. But, will all the ballots of the latter be cast against him? Have the proper arrangements been made to secure that result? The democratic superintendents of every ward and magisterial district in the State should have lists prepared of every voter in their district, black as well as white, divided into those who will certainly vote against Mahone, those who are doubtful, and those who will vote for him. These lists should be reported to the city and county superintendents, so that the exact condition of the vote of the State may be communicated to headquarters. Then each of the men in the doubtful list should be seen face to face and have his doubtfulness changed into certainty. There are many among those who now say they will certainly vote for Mahone, who do so either from ignorance or prejudice. They also should be seen, and every available legitimate means be used to convince them of their error. The election is near, but there is yet sufficient time to attend to all this if the work be commenced at once, and be vigorously prosecuted. General Mahone has his forces well in hand. His opponents should not be behind him. Speeches and circulars are of little or no account in a political campaign, compared with a house to house canvass.

MR. PARSONS, who is such a Virginia debt payer that he went all the way to England, unauthorized and on his own account, to settle it, now makes the public declaration that he will vote for the man who caused the debt to be repudiated. Mr. Parsons, like his political friend General Raum, believes that a modern politician can't afford to be consistent. He acknowledges that his opinion of General Mahone, which was never high, has not changed, but he will vote for him all the same.

AS THE President acts upon the idea that this is a personal government, it is by no means strange that all his subordinates should do likewise. Therefore nobody is surprised that when a delegate to the American International Congress, yesterday asked why the train carrying them stopped at Erie, Mr. Curtis, who had them in charge, replied: "This, gentlemen, is the place where I found a wife, and I want you to meet her old friends and mine."

SENATOR GORMAN, of Maryland, in a speech yesterday, said: "I could not take a leading part in the national campaign for 1888, but I hope to be spared to do my share in 1892." There are many other good and true democrats who were prevented from taking a leading part in the campaign of 1888, but who will come to the front in 1892, provided their party shall then select a popular leader.

THE DEMOCRATIC clubs of Philadelphia are so much in favor of a reduction in the tariff on the necessities of life, that they have invited Congressman Mills, the author of the Mills bill, to address them to night in opposition to the existing high and protective tariff. They believe in the democratic doctrine of the greatest good to the greatest number.

GOV. HILL of New York, in the speech he made at the opening of the Atlanta fair to day, said: "The bright sun looks down upon a nobler civilization in the South to-day than formerly." Which shows conclusively that Gov. Hill didn't know what he was talking about.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Special Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.] WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16, 1889. Congressman Bowen, of the Norfolk, Va., district, now here, went to Alexandria last night and had a conference with the Corbett wing of the republican party in that city with reference to the equitable there about a candidate for the legislature, the result of which was an agreement to nominate Mr. Green. If the colored delegates to the convention don't insist upon the nomination of one of their own race—Magnus Robinson.

It is reported to day that Col. W. E. Sims, formerly of Danville, has gone back to his old love, General Mahone, and that he is preparing a letter on the situation in Virginia which will contain some rare and racy remarks about ex-Senator Riddleberger.

The following was the only change made in the 4th class postoffice of Virginia to-day: French Hay, Hanover county, J. E. Faindexter appointed postmaster vice B. A. Hazlegrove, declined.

It is currently reported to day that the administration has been informed by the G. A. R. that its removal of Corporal Tanner is not approved by that organization; also that several parties have been tendered the Corporal's place, but have declined it at the warning of the association referred to, and that the Corporal will be allowed to continue to draw the salary of the office at least until after the November elections. The Corporal says Secretary Noble had the pension of a personal friend, General Powell, related, though he would not submit to an examination. The impression is extending that Noble as well as Tanner should "go."

The colored Old Fellows of this and neighboring cities, accompanied by several bands of music, marched through Pennsylvania avenue and some of the other streets of the city to-day, and were reviewed by the President. The chief marshal was Magnus Robinson, of Alexandria. Large numbers of the colored people of Alexandria witnessed the parade.

It is reported that Albert Hawkins, the colored carriage driver at the White House during several administrations, has finally, like most of the other colored people employed in the personal service of the President, been discharged. General Rosecrans doesn't like to be surrounded by "rebels," and Mr. Harrison doesn't like to be surrounded by negroes.

Senator Barbours, of Virginia, was seen here to day. He says his intelligence is to the effect that Gen. Mahone is fighting for political life or death, and is consequently exerting to the utmost extent his every effort, but that the fates are against him and he must fall. Mr. Barbours says he obtains his information from the most reliable and well informed sources in all the districts; that they have never deceived him before, and there is less reason they should do so now than ever. He says Gen. Mahone is well supplied with money and has the support of the administration, but that a majority of the people of the State are opposed to him, and that he will be defeated. He says he has always heretofore anticipated the result of Virginia elections, and he is as confident now of democratic success as he ever was. The democrats, he says, will have a large majority in the Legislature.

STATE POLITICAL NOTES.

F. Lewis Marshall, grandson of Chief Justice Marshall, has announced himself a republican candidate for State senator from the counties of Orange, Culpeper and Rapahannock.

A grand display of fireworks, crashing of cannons, music, illuminated streets and enthusiasm of entire population marked the reception of Hon. Phil McKinney at Lexington last night. McKinney, Alexander, Harris and Tucker spoke. Thousands of people were out and it was the biggest ovation yet tendered to the next Governor.

The weekly meeting of the Virginia democratic association, in Washington, was addressed last evening by State Senator R. Walton Moore, of Fairfax, who reviewed the situation in Virginia at some length. His speech was well calculated to impress upon the Virginia voters the importance of casting their votes in the approaching election. He was followed by Mr. E. E. Meredith, of Prince William, who continued in the same line of argument. The association has made arrangements to secure the attendance at the polls of every democrat temporarily residing in the District of Columbia.

General Mahone and ex-Senator Riddleberger reached Richmond last night. Both spoke at Stanton on Monday, and came from that place on the same train to Richmond. Notwithstanding that Gen. Mahone declared in his Stanton speech that he had told Mr. Riddleberger in the United States Senate that he took no notice of anything Mr. Riddleberger said, he spoke to his old colleague quite cordially when they got to the depot to take the Richmond train. Mr. Riddleberger will speak in Richmond to night and General Mahone will speak at Hanover courthouse to day. Mr. Riddleberger says he is quite sure that Mahone will be defeated this year by a bigger majority than Gov. Lee received in 1885, when he beat Mr. Wise by nearly 17,000. Gen. Mahone says he is confident of being elected by a good majority. From Hanover courthouse he goes to Culpeper and then to Washington.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

During the afternoon session of the Episcopal convention in New York, yesterday, there was an animated report on the proposed revision of the prayer book and a vote was taken amid much excitement. The result by yeas and nays was as follows: Yeas 39, noes 46, divided 12. The minority report against revision was therefore lost, and the report of the majority will come up for consideration to day.

William M. Bateman, a member of the North Carolina Farmers' Alliance, and Miss Josephine Nowles were married at Raleigh, yesterday, in the presence of several thousand people. The bride and groom wore white cotton bagging made in North Carolina. Mr. Bateman took this method of showing his hatred of the jute bagging trust.

Gov. Hill, of New York, reached Atlanta last night. He was met up the road by a reception committee and at Atlanta by Gov. Gordon, Mayor Glenn, Henry W. Grady and many others. The path to the hotel was lined with young democrats, bearing torches. Cannon boomed, and it was a big reception at the Kimball House. Gov. Gordon and Mayor Glenn made welcoming addresses, and Gov. Hill replied.

"Time is money." If you have a bad cold don't mope around and half do your work. Get a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; take a dose at night and get up the next morning cured.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

International Marine Conference.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—The diplomatic reception room of the State Department presented a scene of unusual brilliancy this morning, when Secretary Blaine received the delegates to the International Marine Conference. The members were arrayed in the naval gold lace of every prominent maritime nation of the world, and made a striking appearance. The exceptions to the glitter of uniform and decorations were the delegates from China and South America, the former in their distinctive national dress and the latter in regulation dress suits. The delegates were accompanied by the ministers of their respective countries. The delegates were ushered into the diplomatic parlor in the order of the precedence of their ministers. The American delegates were headed by Admiral Franklin.

The reception was conducted in accordance with the etiquette of such occasions and the proceedings were held in strictest seclusion. When Mr. Blaine entered the parlor, the members of the various delegations were presented to him by their respective ministers and he cordially received each one of the delegates formally. Mr. Blaine made a short address. At the conclusion of Secretary Blaine's address Admiral Franklin was chosen President of the conference. With Secretary Blaine and Sir Julian Pauncefote, British Minister, at their head, the delegates then started for the White House. As they emerged from the State Department building they were grouped on the southeast entrance and photographed in a body. When the delegates reached the White House they were shown into the east room and the house was closed to everybody else. Secretary Blaine informed the President of their arrival and he at once repaired to the east room. Secretary Blaine presented Rear Admiral Franklin, president of the Congress, and he in turn introduced the other American delegates. The foreign delegates were next presented. The President made a brief address of welcome.

Almost Buried Alive.

MONTREAL, Oct. 16.—Auguste Archambault, a farmer of Contrecoque, a town near Montreal, narrowly escaped being buried alive yesterday. Archambault, who is well off, had been seriously ill for some weeks with supposed typhoid fever. Friday night he began to sink rapidly and early Saturday all signs of life ceased, and the doctor pronounced him dead. The usual wake was held, and yesterday being fixed upon for burying the supposed deceased, the remains were taken to the village church and afterward to the graveyard. The friends of the farmer were gathered around the grave into which the coffin was being lowered, when all were startled by hearing a groan from it. The coffin was at once burst open, when it was found that Archambault was alive. He was hurriedly carried to his home, and though very weak the two physicians who were called have hopes of completely restoring him to health.

Gov. Hill's Speech.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 16.—The reception to Governor Hill at the Piedmont Exposition to day was only equalled by that given President Cleveland two years ago. A hundred thousand people were on the grounds. Gov. Hill delivered the opening address, which concluded as follows:

"It is sometimes said in the North that the South is solid. So it is—solid for good government, solid for the welfare of its people, solid for integrity in private and official life, solid in its opposition to a paternal administration of public affairs, solid against Congressional extravagance, solid in its renunciation of the errors of the past, solid for American ideas, solid in its devotion to the new nation, solid in its aspirations for a higher civilization, and solid for all that would make us a prosperous and powerful people. Of such solidity I am not afraid. I see no dangers in such unity as springs from the noblest motives and subserves the most exalted patriotism."

Episcopal Convention.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—At 11:10 the House went into committee of the whole on liturgical revision. The first resolution, that the word "proper" be inserted before the word "lesson" in the heading of the Tables of Lessons for Sundays, for holy days and for the forty days of Lent, was adopted unanimously.

Dr. Hart moved the adoption of several amendments in morning and evening prayer between the response "and grant us Thy salvation" and the versicle, "O God make clean our hearts within us." Dr. Harting moved the change be to apply to the evening prayer only. A number of speeches were made on the question.

Fatal Mine Explosion.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—An explosion occurred in the Bantley colliery, at Langton, county of Stafford, this morning. Seventy miners were in the pit at the time of the accident, only eleven of whom are alive. The pit was completely wrecked and the task of getting out the buried miners will be one of great difficulty. A band of volunteers is now engaged in making exploration for the recovery of the bodies. The men engaged in a search for victims of the explosion at the Bantley colliery found fifty bodies of the dead miners this morning.

The Incline Plain Accident.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 16.—Hundreds of people gathered this morning at the scene of yesterday's frightful accident on the Mount Auburn incline plane. Workmen are clearing out the last of the debris, which is broken glass and splinters. One of the cars lies as it was when it struck the bumper. The car then slipped forward two feet or more, being a temporary arrangement until the electric cars are ready to be run on the trucks. Its occupants barely had time to escape before the other car came crashing down by its side. The shock was terrible.

The Mormon Church Property.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 16.—Testimony was taken yesterday before Supreme Court Clerk Bache with a view to fixing the compensation for the year ending November 9 of Frank H. Dyer, the receiver of the Mormon church property under the escheat act. He testified that he now had $1,000,000 worth of property in his possession and asked for a fee of $500 per month. Counsel for the Mormon church claimed that the whole proceedings were void and neither endorsed nor objected to the compensation. The clerk took the matter under advisement.

The total length of all lines operated by the new combination will be 27,076 miles. The total railroad mileage in the United States is 156,000 miles.

STILLWATER, Minn., Oct. 16.—The Mission creek country north of Hinckley is all ablaze. Pine, hay and lumbermen's supplies have been destroyed for miles around. Fires are also raging north of the Snake river and at Pine City. The smoke is so dense as to obscure a headlight 50 feet away. The destruction of the pine forests near Groundhouse is reported still in progress.

[COMMUNICATED.]

The statement that teachers are valued according to their "literary examinations," is just exactly the reverse of the facts in the case in question, of which "School Officer" is either ignorant or utterly disregards.

The party in question got a No. 1 certificate and made 90 per cent, on the examination after being marked down to 50 on theory and practice of teaching under the peculiar rules of our system. And the same teacher can furnish testimonials, and those not from partial relatives that could not fail to satisfy any less biased board than "School Officer." Let all the facts of this case be fully stated to any fair minded and competent outsider, and if not laughed at as ridiculous, will be denounced as unjust.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The stock market was quiet at the opening this morning and first prices were generally slightly lower than last evening's figures. The market soon developed considerable animation which while it was confined to a few of the leading shares, was, if anything, somewhat better distributed than usual of late. There was a general partial rally in the latter portion of the hour, and the market at 11 o'clock was fairly active and firm at something better than the lowest prices. Money in demand at 4 1/2.
